

B-Well Group Cookie Policy

This Cookie Policy outlines the utilization of cookies on the websites operated by B-Well Group (“the Company”). By interacting with the Company’s websites, you signify your consent to the deployment of cookies as described herein.

Definition of Cookies

Cookies are miniscule files that are downloaded to your computer to enhance your browsing experience. This practice is commonplace among professional websites, including those managed by B-Well Group.

Purpose of Cookie Usage

The Company employs cookies for essential purposes exclusively, as detailed below. In most instances, disabling cookies may result in a loss of functionality and features integral to the B-Well Group websites. Therefore, it is advisable to maintain cookie functionality unless you are certain of their necessity.

Disabling Cookies

Adjusting your browser settings can prevent the installation of cookies (refer to your browser’s Help section for guidance). It is crucial to note that disabling cookies may impede the functionality of numerous websites, including this one. This action often results in the deactivation of specific features and functionalities on the site. Hence, it is advised to refrain from disabling cookies.

The Cookies We Set

- Login-related session cookies (browser-based, expires upon browser closure): These cookies facilitate seamless login experiences, obviating the need for recurrent logins.
- Orders processing related session cookies (browser-based, expires upon browser closure): Essential for order processing, these cookies ensure that your order details are retained across pages for proper processing.

More Information

This endeavour aims to provide clarity on cookie usage. If uncertainty persists regarding the necessity of cookies, it is prudent to maintain their enabled status in case of interactivity with essential site features.

For a broader understanding of cookies, please consult the Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO) website.

Should you seek further elucidation, please do not hesitate to contact us through one of our preferred contact methods:

Email: hr.bwell@nhs.net